TYLER SCHYVINCK

Manager Facilities

In his role as manager of facilities within Hunt Midwest's commercial real estate division, Tyler is responsible for the daily facilities, maintenance, light construction and grounds operations for SubTropolis and portions of the adjacent Hunt Midwest Business Center properties.

Tyler has over 10 years of experience of increasing responsibility within operations and facilities management. He started his professional career as an operations intern for Starlight Theatre, an 8,000 seat premier outdoor entertainment venue in Kansas City, Missouri. Tyler has also worked on installation crews with JMP Landscaping, and as a production assistant with The White Theatre in Overland Park, Kansas. In his spare time, he's volunteered in the Olathe school district technical theatre department, teaching the next generation of set-builders and technical production staff important skills. In 2013 Tyler joined Starlight Theatre where he provided support and leadership in various roles in operations, grounds and event teams before being promoted to facility supervisor. In 2018, he was promoted to facilities manager.

Tyler has certifications and professional development in OSHA 10 General Industry Safety and Health, CPR and AED, Fire Fighting 1 and 2 licenses in Missouri, as well as experience in equipment operation, building management systems, construction administration as well as complex technical and mechanical systems and is a member of the International Facility Managers Association. Tyler resides in midtown Kansas City, Missouri.
